CHIEF WILL HALT JETNEY, ALSO CARS

Woods Says Both Will Be Treated the Same

Licenses to Be Revoked, Ordinance to Be Enforced

Backed in his attempt to have the city council amend the jetney ordinance to give him greater discretion in the matter of not revoking permits, Chief of Police W. F. Woods announced in council today that he would not call for enforcing every traffic ordinance against the street cars, even if it should mean blocking the entire system of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway.

W. F. Woods, president and general manager of the traction company, issued a statement following the council meeting in which he stated that the company stands ready to produce any conductor or motorman wanted by the chief of police for infractions of the law, but that he did not believe the chief would go so far as to take action against the cars, leaving these unmaneuvered in the streets.

"I have not strictly complied with the jetney ordinance by revoking licenses of those who have committed violations," said Chief Woods in his formal recommendations to the city council. "I believe my failure to do so was founded on reason and justice."

Discretion in this matter was specifically taken out of his hands by the ordinance passed upon a vote of the people, said Commissioner of Public Works.

"The ordinance makes it mandatory upon you to revoke for minor infractions of the law, do you think you have the right to concede these offenses because they are trivial?"

ASKS AMENDMENT.

"The law can be amended by four votes of the council," explained Woods.

"I move the report be received and placed on file," said Anderson, thereupon selecting Woods' recommendation. This motion was carried.

"I wish to announce that if I have to enforce this jetney ordinance to the letter," said Woods, "I shall also enforce all ordinances affecting street cars to the letter."

Woods explained after the council meeting that there are ordinances which provide that street cars must not pass each other while going over street crossings, that street cars must not stop so as to block cross walks, and that there are block cross ordinances which have not been observed to the letter, which will be enforced.

"I shall place patrolmen at the proper places and make sure of traction company employees," said Woods. "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

STATEMENT OF W. R. ALBERGER.

"The jetney ordinance (319 S. J.) is the result of a long and arduous fight, and several amendments thereto passed by the city council, coupled with the amendments made by the city of Oakland at the last general election.

"The traction company does not approve of the principle of the ordinance, but because the city morally bound to protect the city from competition on streets on which the city has a right, the ordinance was adopted, however, after prolonged debate and the clause directing the revocation of licenses for infractions of the safety measures of the act was one of the clauses approved by the voters of Oakland and the other states have repeatedly recognized in the language of Judge Conroy of the District Court of Appeals in Los Angeles, that 'There is greater inconvenience to traffic on the streets and more danger of accidents from unregulated and uncontrolled traffic along at a high rate of speed in the hot season for vehicles than in cars confined to certain and defined tracks.'

"The recognition of this fact is presumably responsible for the various provisions of the Oakland ordinance, which taken collectively, assure the patrons of these jetneys, and the public that the city is maintaining a high standard of safety, even though the traction company is not protected from this competition."

CHIEF HAS AUTHORITY.

"It is my understanding, gained from presence during the debates when this ordinance was passed, that it was passed with the understanding that the chief of police should have supreme authority. To insure the safe operation of the law was framed to provide for the chief of police, and the law covers the movement of vehicles upon the streets and it was determined, after much discussion, that the chief of police, with his large force of traffic men and patrolmen, should be given the authority to control the situation and that his authority should be supreme and beyond the question of criticism of anyone."

"The chief of police is the chief of the law which have been created by me can properly be called 'minor infractions.' Running by standing city, leading over car crossings at an unlawful rate of speed, running down passengers who have alighted from tractions cars, and running over crossings before the traffic signals, are infractions of the law which go to the point that traffic regulation are framed to cover."

VIOLATIONS ALLEGED.

"For months I have sent almost daily statements to the chief of police, pointing out the infractions of the law by the jetney drivers, and it was on account of this and feeling that the situation was rapidly growing acute because of the continued defiance of the law by the jetney drivers, that I visited Chief Woods on Saturday night and filed with him, eighteen sworn affidavits specifying in detail 335 violations of the jetney law. One affidavit was sworn to by myself, and the fact that jetney drivers are 'human' is certainly no reason why they should be allowed to violate the law. The law is framed to govern human beings."

"I believe the officers and members of the traction company, and the city council, and have faithfully performed their duties, so far as they have been allowed to do so. As far as this company is concerned, if our men are disobeying any of the laws of the city it is the duty of the police to arrest them, but I think the chief must have a right to a fair trial, and leaving the cars standing in the streets, as this would be an injustice to the law, and the law is framed to govern human beings."

MILLIONAIRE HELD; WHITE SLAVE CASE

Girl in Jail Says Man Is Not Guilty; Is "Only a Friend"

Nestor Fagnan of Montreal Visits Coast With Maid of 19

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Accused of leaving his wife and children in Montreal and making a trip to see the exposition in company with a 19-year-old girl, Nestor Fagnan, a millionaire contractor, is held at the city prison charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child.

The girl in the case, who protests Fagnan's innocence of wrong-doing, is Rose La Pointe, a French Canadian, 19 years old. She is being held in detention. The apprehension of Fagnan was due to accident. Had he not argued in an altercation with Thomas Jordan at Fourth and Howard streets at 2:30 o'clock this morning he probably would have escaped arrest. In the quarrel, however, he is alleged to have struck Jordan and followed him with a battery.

When searched at the city prison two return tickets for Montreal were found in his possession. One was for himself and one for Miss La Pointe, showing that he had brought her here. He was locked up and the police went to the Netherlands Hotel, 230 Fourth street, where they found the girl.

"You cannot do anything to Mr. Fagnan," said Miss La Pointe tearfully as she sat in the jailer's room at the prison. "He hasn't done anything wrong. I have known him for some time. I wanted to come to see the exposition and I only had $100. He said he would pay my way and he bought the ticket. That is all."

Fagnan may be turned over to the federal authorities and an investigation will be had to determine whether or not he is guilty of violating the Mann white slave act. It is claimed that he left Montreal three weeks ago and that his wife and family still live there.

BOARD PLAN FOR COUNTY BUILDINGS IS ABANDONED

Solons Rescind Their Resolution Ordering Purchase of Site for Proposed Courthouse

DATE SET TO CHOOSE
HOSPITAL PROPERTY

Action Follows Debate
in Which Members
Give Views on Move
Favored by Majority

On the heels of the passage of a resolution setting the date for the choosing of a county hospital site in the city of Oakland for December 20, the Board of Supervisors this morning rescinded their former resolution ordering the purchase of the Delser property, Nineteenth street and Telegraph avenue, for a court house site. The referendum petition placing this issue before the people was reported by the county clerk as sufficient to force an election. The action of the board removes the issue from the ballot by making it a dead issue, unless an initiative is prepared by the proponents of the plan to place it up for a vote.

The initiative petition placing before the people the issue of court house site may in future be purchased save by popular vote was reported sufficient to place this measure on the ballot. It will be voted on at the next general election.

The Piedmont Building Association, through Wickham Havens, its president, opposed the plan, claiming that the action of the board may take in the matter.

NO ACTION PENDING.

The court house site plan, therefore, according to the board, stands today as if no action had ever been taken on it, and the initiative before the people will, if passed, prevent the board ever acting on it by making it an elective proposition.

A referendum against the proposed removal of the county hospital to Oakland was threatened at the meeting by Supervisor Mullins, who declared that the petition would be placed out at once.

FIGHT OVER SITE.

Following a heated debate in which Chairman D. J. Murphy and Charles W. Hoyer aligned themselves against the plan, the Board of Supervisors, standing 3 to 2, decided on Monday, December 20, as a date for choosing a site, in the city of Oakland, for the new county hospital. Opponents of the plan, headed by Hoyer, threaten a referendum at once. Murphy pleaded with the board to permit the matter to go on the ballot at the next election, but the board refused to do so. A self-constituted committee had already chosen the site, set the date of hearing and framed the deal.

Murphy and Supervisor Mullins claimed that the board had promised to charge that Mullins had promised to vote with him, and then had "thrown him down."

"But don't blame anyone but yourself for anything I may do against you," said Murphy. "I have voted for you."

"The only trouble with you," said Mullins, "is that I have always voted for things you wanted. This time I am entitled to my own judgment."

The resolution setting the date for choosing the site for December 20 was offered by Kelley and seconded by Foss.

HEYER OBJECTED.

"I think in view of the fact that a referendum petition was filed on the court house site, this matter should be left over until the people vote," said Hoyer. "I would like to move this at the present time."

"That can be done by petition," said Kelley. "It just brings the matter to a hearing and frames the deal."

"The people cannot decide between 50 sites. We have to choose the site," said Foss.

"It does not seem to me that this is a self-constituted committee choose our site for us and set a hearing for us. It is not right. The time to do these things is when the time is ripe," said Kelley. "The board by resolution voted to segregate the hospital and infirmaries three months ago."

"I am going to plead with you to submit this thing to the people and pay the taxes," urged Murphy. "You will have a referendum on this. Be square with your constituents."

"I favor the referendum and recall when properly used," said Foss. "I know of many people, if they knew the circumstances, would vote with us. Let us look on the humane as well as the dollar side of this. Educate the people and they won't listen to stories about 'four million dollars stolen' from people getting ten cents a signature."

GOT MANY NAMES.

"I got many names in my district and they didn't cost a cent," said Murphy. "The other side had 40 men out trying to get signatures. Who put up the money? Some was passed."

"Did county deputies get your names on county names?" asked Foss. "They did not, and you didn't pay them, either," retorted Murphy.

"Foss says the people have confidence in us to make selections," said Hoyer. "That may be, but the people are better judges. The people's word is law. Stand by this petition. Don't jam this over on them. I move that we reconsider this segregation resolution."

"We pass this resolution the people can put out petitions," said Kelley.

"We put them to the expense," asked Murphy.

"You said it was no expense," retorted Kelley.

"It is a street," corrected Murphy.

BEST WHEAT OF CANADA IS SEIZED

Government Confiscates Grain as Needed Act of War

Little Effect Will Be Felt in United States Markets

OTTAWA, OEL, Nov. 29.—The Canadian government has commandeered all high-grade wheat in elevators from Port William on Lake Superior to the Atlantic coast.

The action was taken under the special war act by the Canadian Grain Commission. The wheat seized was of grades one hard and one, two and three northern. It was the property of grain shippers and millers. That taken is all which on Sunday night was in public elevators at Port William, Port Arthur, Midland, Tiffin, Port McNichol, Collingwood, Coderich, Kingston, Port Colborne, Prescott, Quebec, St. John, Montreal and Halifax.

A revised estimate places the amount at about twenty million bushels. A considerable amount is the property of American grain dealers.

The grain was taken Saturday night, so that grain exchanges should be affected as little as possible. It is officially stated that the price will be fairly adjusted and the grain owners promptly paid by the Canadian government. It is estimated that there still is in Canada, in the hands of farmers and dealers west of Port William, 150,000,000 bushels surplus of wheat available for export. It is expected that most of this will be taken in the future for the use of Great Britain, France and Italy.

The domestic supply of Russia is more than sufficient to meet the needs of that country. Had the Dardanelles been forced, the surplus of Russian wheat would have made the present action unnecessary.

TO GO TO ITALY.

While the wheat just taken was commandeered to fill an order from the British government for a large quantity of wheat, it is understood that most of it will be shipped to Italy.

The Canadian government will look after the transportation of the grain to the Atlantic seaboard, and from there its shipment across the Atlantic will be undertaken by the British government in the same way that shipments of oats and hay have been handled for the past year.

This year's Canadian wheat crop, according to the last official estimate, was 236,000,000 bushels. For export the surplus is expected to exceed 200,000,000 bushels.

Although such action as commandeering wheat is radical, it is not unusual in war time. The Canadian government, in connection with the matter, is dealing only with the British government and the disposal of the grain so acquired will rest with the home ministry.

GOVERNMENT STATEMENT.

An official statement issued by the government says:

"The phenomenal crop of wheat in the Canadian West has brought upon the government the duty of assisting to the farthest extent possible in its marketing. The supply of wheat the world over is known to have been abundant and the importance of taking advantage of every opportunity to provide for the disposing of our grain is on that account the greater. For many months the government has been in touch with the British authorities, with a view to procuring orders from the United Kingdom and the allied governments in order that the utmost share of the consuming demand in those countries may be turned toward our Canadian surplus. As a consequence of this the British government has requested the Canadian government to provide within a short time a very large supply of numbers one, two and three Northern wheat.

"The problem of meeting these requirements and of doing so at such prices as would induce the repetition of orders in Canada, then confronted the government.

"The effect of government purchases in the open market, such as

FAIR WEATHER BRIDE IS PLAYED BY PASTOR

Dr. Van Horn Tells of Test of Real and 'Canned' Devotion

Laughter followed but not contemptible mirth of it added through the pen of the First Congregational church last night when Rev. Francis J. Van Horn related the story of the "Fair Weather Bride."

The ideal being up before the young woman reader is introduced to an incredibly funny, he objected. "A plump woman is supposed to know, to be graceful. She has an air of being a woman, a woman's air, rather extraordinary, short at the top or at the bottom—according to whether she is in or out of the house. She has learned to read a cigarette, and to use the most delicate of words—just like a man."

Rev. Francis J. Van Horn was not denouncing this figure of fiction without purpose. He was describing an "ideal" which he considers responsible for the devastation of innumerable homes, the sorrows of many men who have lost their jobs, and whose battles he has decided to fight in a series of Sunday night sermons on the subject of love and its frequent result, marriage. Later he intends to state the case for the woman who have found matrimony difficult, but last night it was the "fair-weather bride" who came in for attention.

Back to E. P. Rowe and to Mary J. Holmes, whose romantic and long-suffering heroines brought tears to many solitary maiden's eyes twenty years ago, would the Oakland pastor have the prospective bride of today go—that is—if it is a draw between E. P. and Mary J. or the "mass of present-day fiction," where damsels ambulate cigarettes and release into athletic leanness. Back to those sorbs who drew touching pictures of faithful women.

TELLS REPORTER'S STORY.

Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, preceding his discussion by the delicate question, "Is the Love of Love?" told the story of a man who lost his bride shortly after losing his salary, gave his explanation of the causes, and then demanded of his congregation:

"Is such love real love or the passing passion of an hour? If, when the man gets as good a position, or better than the one he has, and as good or a better salary, and his fair weather bride puts out tiny tentacles suggesting that perhaps perhaps she'd come back to live with him—would you say, 'Oh, yes, young man, take her back; take her back right away?' I'd say, 'Go a bit slow.'"

On "Society" the Congregational pastor played part of the dramatic play that has come to his attention. "Society," he declared yesterday, "tells the young woman that the thing is to have a good time. Then, of course, her behind a counter, Society tells her 'Let nothing stand in the way of a good time—not even a lady. Poodle dogs are cheaper.'"

From his point of observation as a minister, Rev. Van Horn decided that the pay envelope was the test of real or canned love. That hard times might not take account of nature but that they caused a precipitate drop in the number of marriages and a corresponding increase in the percentage of divorces. That the devotion of young wives to husbands who can't pay their new bills during such economic stress is the most beautiful thing imaginable—but also that it is a position.

SCHOOL AS HELP.

He says that infinite numbers of women are working today who long to be delivered from the bondage of their toil. He believes that they are looking for "good men," but he expressed considerable doubt as to whether they intended to make old-fashioned homes for these good men when they have acquired much of the modern furniture and new frocks, and he denounced the state of things which did not permit teachers in the grades to instruct small girls into the idea that their careers were to be as housewives.

"I suppose that if they did some of you people would call such teachers 'immoral.'"

It might be added that this discussion followed an announcement from the minister to the effect that "I disallow being able to answer all questions on love." But he is preparing to take in further ramifications of the subject on the next three Sunday nights, for the devout who would be matrimonially saved.

wheat in store at the head of the lakes and eastward. This involves the purchase of anywhere from twelve to fifteen million bushels. The price paid has not yet been settled by the government, but will shortly be fixed on a fair basis. The commandeering order goes no further than is stated above, and instructions have been given that all loading now under way is to be continued and no delay whatever occur in the filling of the commandeered grain from the elevators to ocean terminals. It will be observed that the order does not apply to grain in elevators west of the lakes or in transit at the time the order takes effect or subsequently thereto.

"There seems no reason why the grain markets should be radically affected by the action taken. Obviously, it does not involve any increase in the world's consumers, or, indeed, in the world's consumers' demand. It means simply the filling of the existing demand to the extent of the grain taken by this much of the Canadian surplus instead of filling the same from other sources.

MAY AID FARMERS.

"If the result should be a rise in the Canadian prices, then beneficial effect will largely accrue to the grain farmers themselves, and not to the holders of grain in store. While the holders of grain in store are entitled to fair treatment, it has been thought desirable not to precipitate market conditions at the expense of the customers from whom we hope to obtain orders in the future and who are our allies in the war."

The action taken by the British government is based entirely on war conditions and the response of the Canadian government has been dictated by regard to the same state of facts.

NO PERMANENT EFFECT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The seizure of from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Canadian government, in the opinion of Robert McDougal, a prominent Chicago exporter, will have no permanent effect on prices in the United States.

IS UNCONCERNED.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—F. A. Hallet, president of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, and Franklin M. Crosby, a director of Washburn-Crosby Company, millers, said that the seizure by the Canadian government of certain stores of wheat would not affect the United States market to any degree, even temporarily.

U. S. Wheat Price Will Be Bettered

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Much of the wheat commandeered by the Canadian government was under contract to New York shippers according to grain dealers here. Many of them have sold grain for December shipment and must obtain it from other sources to meet their contracts. They hope to obtain a share of the Canadian surplus not commandeered.

This situation is expected here to create an increased demand for wheat grown in the United States. Shipping agents here say that the seizure of the wheat by Canada does not mean that its shipment to Europe will be diverted from United States ports, as they do not believe that Halifax and St. John can handle the Canadian crop. Portland, Maine, is considered a great outlet for Canadian wheat.

No Wheat Order Made in England

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The official press bureau made the following statement: "With reference to the announcement from Ottawa on November 23 that the Canadian government had commandeered 15,000,000 bushels of wheat at the request of the British government, the board of agriculture states that the British government has made no such request, that it is regretted that they have no information on the subject."

GERMANY TO KEEP CONQUERED LAND

Military Operations Do Not Encourage Return of Country.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—A paper given to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"The German government in a proclamation issued at Schleswig-Holstein, regarding the province of Schleswig-Holstein, referring to the retention of the territory in the hands of the German army as a gift from Germany's enemies or as a reward from Germany for Denmark's neutrality, states that military operations do not encourage the speculation that Germany can give anything away and it would be unfair to Denmark to suppose the maintenance of her great security could be dictated by hope of foreign payment."

Schleswig-Holstein is a province of Prussia formed out of the duchies of Schleswig, Holstein and Lauenburg, formerly belonging to Denmark, by which country it is bounded on the north. The area is 155 square miles, and about one-third of the inhabitants are Danes.

Schleswig, long an object of contention between the Germans and the Danes, passed to the possession of the kings of Denmark in the eleventh century. In 1864 Prussia and Austria wrested the duchies from Denmark. The victor over Denmark in 1913 added the province to her dominions.

Knives Used in Deadly Battle

Dalmatians Fight Desperately in Conflict

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—Many heroic deeds are being done from the battle-ground around Celavitz. The Italians fight bravely and several times, by numerical superiority, have succeeded in entering Austro-Hungarian positions, but always have been ejected by Dalmatian infantry, says the Overseas News Agency.

These Dalmatians are especially noted for their tenacious fighting and are feared in the hand-to-hand combat because of their unusual ability in handling knives. Houses around the church at Celavitz, which had been occupied during the night by 500 Italians, were stormed with the bayonet in the morning by Dalmatians. After the guards had been killed the remainder of the Italians surrendered.

One 15-year-old Dalmatian lad who had been wounded nine times alternately blew the trumpet and shouted to his companions to press on to the attack.

Rain Is Brought With New Storm

Northern Section of the State Drenched

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—A storm which has been brewing off the northwest coast entered California early this morning and Eureka had received a good drenching up to 5 o'clock. At that hour the storm was proceeding southward and showers are expected in this vicinity by tonight. According to the United States Weather Bureau, Central California should be on the edge of the disturbance and the prediction given out for the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys was for rain.

German Cruiser Seizes Oil Cargo

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The American oil tank steamer Wico, formerly the German steamer Paula, which took from Philadelphia to Stockholm a cargo of illuminating oil last July, arrived today from Hamburg and Kirkwall and reported having been seized by a German cruiser which took her into Stettin, Germany, where the oil was discharged.

British Reticent Of Teuton Victory

Fail to Concede Serbian Campaign

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The British public is not inclined to grant the German contention that the Serbian campaign of the Central powers has been brought to a successful conclusion. The hope is expressed here that the winter weather will give time for reinforcing the Anglo-French troops until they are strong enough to assume the offensive before the Austrians have consolidated their positions in Serbia. Russia also is counted on to play a part in the operations.

In the meantime the only active military operations seem to be centering around Monastir, the fate of which is obscure. The most contradictory reports on the subject vary from the assertion that the city is still in the hands of the Serbians to the claim that it has passed into the hands of the Austrians.

Further to the north it is reported the Serbian armies, divided into two sections, are retreating into Albania and Montenegro. It is not yet apparent whether Austro-German forces are to be sent against the Anglo-French lines south of Salonika, but at the other extreme of the Balkan front the Montenegrins are expected to make a heavy attack from the north.

The entente members of Athens are said to have received the reply of Greece to their second note. Greece is reported to have promised to meet all demands which do not threaten to compromise her neutrality.

An unmistakable lull prevails along the eastern front. From the west come official reports of a lively air and sea skirmish off the Belgian coast.

Japan Opposes China Entering Alliance

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—Japanese opinion as expressed here is antagonistic to China entering into an alliance with the triple entente powers. Such a development of the situation is considered inimical to the doctrine that Japan should hold the predominance in the Orient.

The report that Great Britain was directly seeking an alliance with China was followed by an announcement that Great Britain had informed Japan that she had no intentions of entering into political negotiations with China without previous negotiations with Japan.

German Submarines Sunk Eighteen Ships

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—Eighteen ships, with a total tonnage of 112,082, have been sunk by submarines of the Central powers in the Mediterranean sea up to date, according to an official statement issued here denying the report from Petrograd that the German cruiser Frauenlob has been sunk by an allied submarine. The statement also says:

The foreign press had stated, according to advices from Petrograd, that the small cruiser Frauenlob was sunk by an allied submarine. This is pure invention, as was the news regarding the sinking of a 3000-ton cruiser by Russian torpedoboats.

PROTEST FILED.

The old controversy over the right of the San Francisco Terminal Railway to run its Key System tracks in Twelfth street from Poplar junction to Broadway was given a new turn today by the filing of a letter from the Downtown Property Owners' Association, calling the attention of the council to the contention of the traction company officials that by accepting a percentage of the earnings of the Key System cars over this strip of track, the city had recognized the right of the company to some sort of franchise or privilege in the matter.

President Walter H. Henry of the Downtown Association, stated that he had been informed by Frank E. Meese, Ben F. Woolner and Edwin Meese, former mayor, city attorney and treasurer, respectively, that no payment for this traffic had been received.

President G. K. Weeks of the Traction Company declared that for the past six years the company has been paying a percentage of its transfer, Key System earnings, for the Twelfth street privilege.

A resolution had been prepared by Commissioner Edwards directing the city attorney to investigate work of the city and the whole matter of the right of Key System cars in Twelfth street. This was not read, but a motion to refer the Downtown Association letter to the city attorney was substituted for it.

JACKSON RETURNS.

Commissioner F. F. Jackson made his first appearance at the meeting of the city council today since his recovery from his months of illness from an almost fatal attack of pneumonia poisoning. The lobby applauded when Dr. Jackson entered the council chamber and the commissioners hastened to shake hands with him and congratulate him upon his recovery.

Mayor Davis was among those to greet the returned councilman.

"You saw that report that I had been investigating your department," said the mayor to Dr. Jackson. "It is absolutely untrue."

Dr. Jackson announced that he would not take up the council with his office for some days, as he is still weak and he would attend council, unless his condition does not continue to improve.

The council then turned to the matter of the resolution trans- ferring $4000 to the harbor appropriation to provide for dredging at the foot of Franklin street and Broadway. It is the desire of Commissioner H. S. Anderson to use the money in the channel, and to use the sand dredged out to fill in the north arm of the estuary between Seventh and Eighth streets east of Fallon. This will mean that several acres of land will be recovered for municipal purposes.

A petition signed by 240 commuters on the Southern Pacific Eleventh street line, asking that the company be permitted to operate three cars instead of two-car, trains over this line, was presented to the council. It was referred to the city attorney.

CHAUFFEURS ASK DATE.

The chauffeurs' union asked that a committee from the city work out a conference with the commissioners Monday as set for the day after the conference, which will be executive in the office of the mayor.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to use calomel, but let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." Note the difference in your mood and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. 'Land of Yesterday' at
Orpheum Recalls
Somber Days

"A Breath of Old Virginia," a gripping playlet in which the audience is carried into the Land of Yesterday to witness sights of years ago and actions long forgotten, is the feature of a lively bill at the Orpheum this week. Genevieve Cliff, the leading actress, in the remarkable little drama, is a perfect performer, and her work scored a tremendous hit last night. The play is novel in conception and one that will linger long in the memories of those who see it.

The other big feature is "Mystery," an illusion in which apparently human beings appear in pantomime. They disappear and appear as by magic. They are not motion pictures. What are they? They have Pepper's Ghost or Kellar's Blue Room gone one better, and wisecracks are busy guessing how it's done. Sherman, Van and Hyman offer a line of musical foolishness that affords considerable amusement. Their comedy is artistic and clean and altogether refreshing.

One of the biggest features of the big bill was Marie King, creator of the remarkable "Capital Stairs Dance," and one of the most famous of modern dancers. Assisted by Ted Doherty, she floats through a series of 19w terpsichorean novelties. Miss King is the woman who surprised the world by coming down the Metropolitan tower stairs on her toes, and is the creator of a large number of striking dancing effects.

James Diamond and Sybil Brennan score a heavier hit than ever at their last visit, and Ben Beyer and Company are seen in a cycling novelty that pleases. Beatie De Voie, dancer, offers a striking series of dancing and acting novelties. And Olga, the violinist, appears in a charming bit of musical amusement. Motion pictures round out the bill.

The supreme test of an actress' ability and power lies in her being able to create sympathy for the character which she is interpreting, no matter how wicked, how treacherous, how utterly bad the woman may be. Pauline Frederick, who in the famous Players Film Company's photoplay adaptation of the celebrated novel and play "Bella Donna," by Robert Hitchcock and J. B. Hays, made its initial appearance on the screen of the Oakland Photo Theater yesterday afternoon, is a woman who has created a record in the role of "Zaza."

There is nothing intrinsically redeeming about the personality of Bella Donna, this treacherous adventuress who poisons her husband that she may be free to go to the Egyptian for whom she has conceived an uncontrollable passion. The sympathy which Miss Frederick wins in that dramatic and pathetic last moment in which she is banished to the desert and the night is not sympathy for Bella Hitchcock and J. B. Hays, but for the Frederick, whose beauty and alikeness to the personality transcend even the repugnance of the character.

As the second feature on the program which will be seen for the last time tomorrow night, a dramatization of E. Marion Crawford's celebrated masterpiece, "In the Palace of the King," will be presented.

Friendship Costly In New Haven Case

Coal Dealer Said to

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—John L. Ballard, the Meriden coal dealer, was such a good friend to the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, C. S. Mellen testified today, that if "any directors had asked me to take a pound of coal out of mine I would have willingly gone and lived."

A characterization of the man who sold the New Haven's shares of Boston & Maine stock during a long testimony at the trial of the eleven former New Haven directors to the effect that Ballard willingly gave up a coal profit of $2,750,000 for an actual profit of $100,000. The New Haven settled with him for $150,000, but he gave up $100,000 of it to Frank Brown, a Connecticut lawyer, who had helped to get the charter of the railroad. The witness added that Ballard wanted to give him $50,000, but he declined the offer.

This was in 1909, and the government sought to show the witness that thereafter the Ballard Company was used as "a sham for transactions which it did not care to undertake itself."

OAKLAND BOYS ARE STARS ON MARINA

Two teams of Oakland boys, probably the lightest in the state playing the American football game, battled to a scoreless tie on the Exposition Marina field yesterday. The contestants were the 35-pound teams of the Mosswood and Prescott playgrounds. The boys averaged under twelve years of age, but their youth did not prevent the diminutive athletes from putting up a spirited game. The teams were so evenly matched that neither was able to work the ball any nearer to its opponent's goal than the 15-yard line.

The Mosswood team relied on the forward pass and frequent punting for their game, while Prescott kept up a smashing attack on the line and around the ends. The game was witnessed by a large and interested crowd, and was a powerful argument for the suitability of the American game to the younger generation of athletes.

Suppose that you loved a very beautiful girl who turned a disdainful eye upon you because she believed you to be a dishonest man. Suppose that you finally convinced her of your guilelessness, took her in your arms and kissed her. Suppose that in doing so, however, an uncleship brooch on her bosom thrust its sharp point against one of your ribs. What would you do? Would you press it? Or would you stay in the clench as did William Farnum, who is playing the lead in the William Fox movie picture, "The Broken Law," at the Franklin theater?

In one scene of "The Broken Law," Mr. Farnum makes passionate love to Isabel, a wealthy English girl. During the filming of the scene a silver pin in Isabel's dress became "unfastened." When Mr. Farnum enveloped Isabel in a bearlike embrace, the point of the pin penetrated Mr. Farnum's chest for no small distance.

Instead of altering his facial expression and thereby spoiling a picture that had required weeks to get, Mr. Farnum betrayed not the slightest physical indication of what had happened. When the camera was stopped upon the completion of the scene, he nonchalantly removed the pin.

"The Broken Law" is one of the most interesting film productions in which Mr. Farnum has appeared. It is a modern romantic drama containing several intensely dramatic situations and presents the popular actor in one of his favorite roles. Other pictures are included in the bill which will be shown again today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

POISONED HIMSELF AT 40

Death by slow poison is killing many a man, young in years, who has made the fatal mistake of failing to understand the warnings of kidney trouble. When young kidneys begin to lag in throwing off natural poisons that accumulate in your body, the first warnings come in little twinges, or stiffness across your back and hips. Urination may be too frequent; you may feel "tired" in the morning when you should feel your best.

The best known remedy for these troubles is GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules. This remedy has stood the test for more than 20 years. It was first produced in the ancient laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. It acts directly on the kidneys and bladder and gives relief at once or within a few days. It is a pure, natural product and is not a substitute. Guaranteed and sold by The Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

THREE MILLION IDLE.

In the Monthly Review, published by the Department of Labor, Secretary William B. Wilson sets forth that there is something more than three million people idle in the United States at the present time and that there is an average of 2,177,000 idle throughout the year. On December 16th and 17th a conference will be held in Charleston, South Carolina, of delegates from all the Southern States to discuss means and methods of finding work for a part of this unemployed army. This conference is being held at Mr. Wilson's request, he having written to the governors and mayors of the principal cities of sixteen Southern States, asking them to name representatives to discuss the situation.

The Department of Labor for some time has been considering the plan of extending the scope of the federal employment bureau to all the States of the Union. One of its major purposes is to "bring labor and jobs together" and to this end, through the aid of the Postoffice Department, it has sought to send unemployed workmen to districts where labor was needed. Already, however, the federal employment offices have run afoul of the laws. Working in conjunction with the Immigration Bureau it attempted to put into effect the practice of saying where immigrants might be sent upon their arrival at New York City. Mr. Justice Holmes of the United States Supreme Court said in effect that any government bureau which attempted to send an immigrant, admitted to the country conformably with the federal laws, to any locality of prohibition from proceeding to any locality against his wishes, had an absurd conception of the bureau's duties and authority.

But of greater interest than the difficulties confronting the Department of Labor in its plan to shift the out-of-work to different parts of the country is the fact that there are three million unemployed at the present time. As a matter of fact there are a great many more persons out of work than the government figures show. The government obtains information concerning those out of work and seeking jobs—those who are in need and who feel they must have work immediately. In addition to this class of wage-earner there are a large number of laborers and artisans who are able to live through a certain period of idleness without appealing to the government and employment agencies for aid. If the government has found that ten percent of the income-earners of the country are out of work, it may reasonably be assured that twenty percent of the working people are either out of work or in need of more work. So long as such a condition prevails nation-wide prosperity does not exist. The logical way to give the idle work is, not to transport them from one place to another at their own expense, but to start the wheels of industry moving in every section, so there will be work for every one in his own home district. This would benefit all classes, the employer and the employed, the manufacturer, the agriculturist, the merchant and the consumer. It is by far a higher benevolence for the government to permit conditions that produce work for everybody than to organize a charitable employment bureau to chase jobs for the small wage-earner.

TENNESSEE AMENITIES.

Another one of the nation's boy wonders has just passed into his political eclipse. Senator Luke Lea, the orphan prodigy of Tennessee, failed to qualify in the primaries as a candidate for re-election. But judging from the comment of the newspapers of his State, during his campaign he created enough commotion to cause him to be remembered some time hence. A few phrases are illuminating. Says the Chattanooga Times which regarded the senatorial fight rather seriously, of one candidate: "He has admitted that he spent nearly fifty years of his life uselessly and in sin and iniquity, and, although he has been on trial for about two years, he is asking his party to reward his fifty years of profligacy and his two years of righteousness with the highest honor in its gift." Of Senator Lea the Times says: "He presumes on public ignorance in his cheap demagoguery to help along his indomitable gall."

The Nashville Banner says Senator Lea is "a political agitator belonging to a pestiferous class who do a great deal of harm." The Nashville Tennessean, supporting Lea, replies to his critics with this: "The last rag of the rigging of the old whisky ship is waving." And again, "The infamy of having doom called down by a whisky-logged old derelict like the Times," is great.

Arrements of a truly democratic quality indeed. But when the "run-off" of Senator Lea's successful opponent takes place later doubtless most of the bitterness will be replaced by smiling acquiescence and sugared adulation. And whether former Governor Patterson or Congressman McKellar finally lands in Washington he will represent the "glorious name, the honor and the interests" of his State. Popular election of Senators in Tennessee has become a real institution.

A NEUTRALITY VIOLATOR.

One of the gravest menaces to the peace and social order of the nation is Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, former president. Time and again since the invasion of Belgium he has devoted his ability to write and talk to criticising and condemning the acts of a nation friendly to his own. Fortunately for us, foreign governments are not likely to take him seriously unless some great injury results from his conduct. But the exuberance and disregard of consequences displayed by Colonel Roosevelt are cause for serious apprehension.

His latest offense is the letter just made public, with his permission, in connection with the arrest, and subsequent release without trial, of young Kenneth W. Priest by the British military authorities on the charge of espionage. Colonel Roosevelt interested himself in the case to the extent of addressing a letter to the British Ambassador at Washington, in which it was said Priest must be temporarily unbalanced mentally.

Now that the youth is home, Colonel Roosevelt writes to his lawyer, for publication, to this effect:

Moreover he (Priest) should understand and appreciate the contrast between the conduct of the British Government in his case and the conduct of the German Government in permitting and sanctioning what, in order to be truthful, I can only describe as the butchery of Miss Cavell.

The common decencies of the situation, the knowledge that he one time had many German friends, the appeal from the President of the United States that the people strive in every way to maintain an attitude of strict neutrality, which most people and newspapers are trying to observe, have no influence upon Colonel Roosevelt. He, above all men in the country excepting former President Taft, should realize the seriousness and the gravity of Mr. Wilson's request.

Yet he becomes the shameless leader of opprobrium, epithet, unfairness, intolerance, and untruthfulness; of vulgar attempts to arouse sentiment. Roosevelt's reference to the Cavell case was inappropriate. If young Priest was mentally unbalanced, as he and others represented to the British authorities when seeking his release, he is not competent to appreciate the difference in treatment of the two cases. It is more probable that the truth of the matter is that Colonel Roosevelt traded in his power to obtain publicity and makes this the opportunity to pay the debt. There should be some way of punishing violations of neutrality of this kind. But Colonel Roosevelt evidently realizes he may disregard his former high position on the one hand and rely upon it to save him official reprimand or corrective measure on the other.

Senator Simmons, co-author of the Underwood-Simmons tariff law, is an ardent supporter of preparedness. The majority sentiment of the country will endorse his statement of the question without important modification: "With reference to preparedness generally I think the sentiment would be against what has been characterized as frenzied preparedness, but overwhelmingly in favor of what might be termed common sense preparedness; that is, preparedness that would enable us to protect ourselves if attacked and to defend our rights on the high seas as well as on the land if these rights are invaded. I would have a navy adequate not only for defense, but adequate to assert our rights."

Senator Smoot of Utah, one of the leading Republican members of the finance committee of the Senate, voices the latest of numerous accusations against Secretary McAdoo of introducing jugglery into the bookkeeping system of the Treasury Department. Commenting upon Mr. McAdoo's estimate of revenues and expenditures for 1916, in which the secretary admits a deficit, Senator Smoot asserts that the statement of revenue is too high and the statement concerning expenditures is far too low. The difference between Mr. McAdoo's and Senator Smoot's figures is a trifling $88,000,000. Unfortunately, the evidence is corroborative of Senator Smoot's statement.

Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic United States Senator from Chicago, Illinois, publicly declares the time has come for the national government to adopt better business and administrative methods. The advice of one who has several times been a candidate for the vice-presidential nomination and who is considered an administration leader in the Senate ought to receive serious consideration.

NOTES and COMMENT

Sir Edward Carson declares the United States to be the greatest "evil empire" since the days of the Pharaohs. But it is some times hard work to preserve neutrality.

The life sky law has completely ruined the old standard for stock southerners, the wave motor and that never fails to give a record the "market" and "bull" market.

Some of Mrs. Paraharris's followers have revolted. They have probably had time to think it over. Some power the gifts has given them to see themselves as others saw them while they were at their militant exploits.

The Federal Government is going to give the screw another turn in the matter of taxes, if Secretary McAdoo's program is carried out. Some who are squeezed hard will protest, even the screw will have been turned up to the limit.

An unusual 13-over story comes from Greenwood City. John Games, 45, married Isabelle Oliver, 16. Oliver was a grass widow. He was divorced from his first wife on the day his second wife was born. Coincidences will happen.

All the same, the fact that a man who has been sentenced for serving in the six-hour effort. It is absolutely impossible for an employer now when more the employee can do by working two hours less.

The proprietor of the Stanford apartments, in San Francisco, hung out the sign, "No Children." Creditors have descended on the scene. Which doesn't necessarily point a moral—only furnishes a follow-up story.

Meyer Lissner has explained the situation exactly to the Republicans of the country. If Hughes is nominated for President, "and with him as running mate an out-and-out Progressive," the votes of the insurgents can be secured. The puzzle that you can't see without looking is who, is meant for the running mate.

"Making landlords quake" is a headline taken from Reedy's Mirror, a Socialistic uplift. The idea seems to be that if you make the man who has something squirm, the man who hasn't anything will profit. There are quite a number of persons who are just as well satisfied in contemplating injury to others as in securing benefits to themselves.

APPENDICITIS IN HISTORY.

While the recent cases of appendicitis seem to many persons to indicate that there is a great recently developed danger for the race, what they actually mean is just the contrary. For while death frequently followed appendicitis almost any time before the last twenty years, now the great majority of these cases terminate favorably under modern surgical care.

Our recent cases illustrate very well, however, the place of appendicitis in history. Very often in the past when prominent men were suddenly taken ill and died it there was any reason for any one to harbor special anxiety against them, the rumor of possible poisoning spread and often came to find its way even into history. Death often seemed too opportune to be due to anything but some intentional act.

Indeed, only for American surgical enterprise in the treatment of appendicitis it is probable that even our two recent very prominent cases, had they terminated fatally, would almost surely have been looked upon as due to some hostile intention. As it is they fortunately demonstrate a great modern surgical triumph over one of nature's most elusive and serious diseases, but nothing more.—New York Herald.

CALLS MESSIAH ADVERTISER.

Christ was a master of the art of advertising. John proved himself a great editor and there is no better reporter than Luke, according to Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism of the University of Missouri, who addressed a Sunday school convention in St. Louis. "Even Christ's last words were for the benefit of his Christian publicity," said Mr. Williams. "Wherever a church has kept the good news of the gospel to itself it has died. When it has given this news out it has conquered. When Kitchener wanted 1,000,000 men he advertised in the newspapers. When the church wants 1,000,000 strong men to aid its cause it rings a bell for five minutes on Sunday. Luke, with his vivid phrases, wrote the greatest report in the world—the story of Christ. John proved himself the best editor, for he freely used the blue pencil, stating, 'If I wished, I could fill many volumes.' Even the devil advertises, his specialty being white lights."—New York Herald.

There is always method in Dame Fashion's madness. As the skirts grow shorter the shoes grow longer. They have even ceased to be shoes. Boots is the only proper term for any kind of women's footwear that could be considered up to date. But the great problem now is, have the shoes attained their full height or must they continue to grow? A dread question grows itself, is emancipated womankind suggesting to the "modest garment" was of the boot?—Brooklyn Eagle.

BOOMING CORK LEG INDUSTRY.

An industry which has been practically dormant in this country is now growing by leaps and bounds. It is the manufacturer of false arms and legs. One American concern is said to have received abroad, orders from the French and English governments to the extent of $7,000,000. The normal production capacity of the concern is two hundred and fifty artificial legs a month, and it is planned to have its output multiplied five times in the near future. It is an arm and a leg that knows no end.—Denver Post.

THE DEATH PENALTY

—ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

THE RIDE OF EDNA McGRATH.

There is something epic about the adventure of Edna McGrath. She left her work of inscribing homely platitudes on picture frames—to be sold, as she so vigorously put it, to country boobies—and went on one of the wildest, craziest rides in the annals of the Indiana police. She captained a band of youths who stole an automobile, purposely upset two milk wagons, fired on a train, took several prisoners, and finally capitulated to the police. Excitement was the only motive she had.

She did it because it was fun to live dangerously. Sociologists will probably flock about her, explaining why she did it. Anti-suffragists will argue from her case that woman has no place in industry, and humanitarians will assert that more playgrounds are necessary. Had she remained in her home, it is true that her excitement might have been all vicarious—a novel and a box of chocolates—and the Indiana officials might have had their night's sleep. If she had gone regularly to a social center, she might have worked off some of her exuberance.

But Edna McGrath's ride was just as thrilling and almost as significant as Paul Revere's. The moving picture censors have not eradicated with their drastic cuts the desire of youth for violent and dangerous pleasures. The playground, builders have only partly succeeded in denaturing it. Calisthenics cannot take the place of the acrid smoke of revolvers, nor parallel bars supplant the wild fear of pursuit.

Although collectively we cannot tolerate the Edna McGraths, individually, if somewhat guiltily, we understand them and to certain degree envy them.—Chicago Tribune

Poor Motive Power. "Your dad is an old crank," said the youth who had been told by his father that 11 o'clock was time to go. Dad overheard the remark. "A crank is necessary in case of the lack of a self-starter," he retorted.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE GARDENER.

There was a magic garden, in it grew Tall hollyhocks and pink phlox dewy With clove carnations and some magnonette. And Canterbury bells of azure hue, wet, And in one corner bloomed a splendid flower— A rose, with close, sweet petals folded in. Like other flowers she had her short, sweet hour. Away upon a green stem long and thin.

A stooped old gardener came at early morn To tend the flowers. He loved the rose the best. And while he tended he noticed not now worn And pale and drooping faded all the rest.

One morning as he passed on down the way, He saw the crusted earth, the flowers all dead, And autumn winds were rife, the skies were gray. While phloxes were scudding wildly over—

And there my rose," he said, "my favorite flower. I'll tend her petals, prune her slender stem. 'Tis fall—the rose bed 'tween her feet. Guttering petals strewed the garden walk. Lark McLean, in the Houston Chronicle.

FACE WORTH ALL OF $1329. Important doctrine was laid down by the Supreme Court of Texas, N. J., when it declared: "We cannot say $1329 is excessive in the case of a girl whose face may be her fortune."

This momentous decision was reached in the suit brought by Rose Goldberg against a brewing company of Elizabeth, N. J. Goldberg is 14 years old, and she was injured when a balcony from which she was hanging out handkerchiefs at her home in Elizabeth collapsed.

The property was in possession of the brewing company and suit for $5000 was brought on the ground that the girls' face was cut and scarred, her nervous system shocked and that she suffered permanent and painful injuries.

DISGUISED, GIRL EVADES COURT ORDER

Fearing the Questions of Love Affair She Escapes

Search of County Made;
Had Attempted Suicide

SAN JOSE, Nov. 29.—A county-wide search was instituted today by the juvenile court and probation office in an attempt to find Mrs. Frances Gomez, 15-year-old wife of a Palo Alto man, who escaped from the home of a wife of a Stanford professor Saturday night in order to avoid being brought before the juvenile court here and questioned in regard to a love affair. The girl climbed from a window at the home of C. H. Gilbert and it was not discovered that she was missing until yesterday morning. She is then believed to have been supplied with a disguise by her brother-in-law, Frank Karl. A warrant for the arrest of Karl has been issued. He is accused of having encouraged a minor to disobey an order of the juvenile court.

Mrs. Gomez, who is the daughter of a Palo Alto contractor, was married at Redwood City last spring. She was then only 14 years of age. Her husband deserted her a few days after the ceremony, it is stated. The girl then got into trouble with the juvenile court because of her alleged infatuation for a Mountain View married man. Rebellious attitude toward the court and its efforts to restrain her is said to have been responsible for an attempt at suicide which she made last Wednesday near her home. After drinking a small quantity of lye she started screaming. Neighbors forced her to swallow oil. She was then taken to the Peninsula hospital in Palo Alto for treatment. Afterward she was given temporarily into the custody of Mrs. Gilbert.

Creeds and ditches are being searched in the vicinity of Palo Alto today, as it is feared that the girl may have carried out a threat to take her life.

Sick Man Wanders; Fear for Safety

Fears are entertained for the safety of William Walker, who wandered away from his home, 1115 Cypress street, Saturday night, after he had been confined to his bed for several months and was just recovering from a serious illness. It is thought that he may have become exhausted during his walk and may have taken refuge in some secluded spot where his continued weakness made it impossible for him to call for help.

Mrs. Walker, wife of the missing man, reported his disappearance to the police. Walker is described as extremely emaciated from his long illness, 40 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches in height, weighing 121 pounds, with brown eyes and dark brown hair. He wore a brown suit and black overcoat. In the lapel of his coat was a Masonic emblem.

Mrs. S. Halbes, 2327 Eighth street, reported the disappearance of her son, Lawrence, 15 years of age. Halbes left home last Friday.

Clearance Case to Reach Jury Soon

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The government expects late today to complete its case against Carl Buehn and other officials of the Hamburg-American line who are on trial in the federal court here for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government.

The case probably will go to the jury not later than Wednesday night. When the trial was resumed today, Ralph J. M. Eulow, a New York lawyer, was recalled to the stand. He was counsel for the captains of the steamers Sommerstad and Fram, which were loaded at Philadelphia, cleared for Brazilian ports and awaited a chance that never came to dash to sea and place their supplies aboard German warships.

Can Science Give Back Years? Physicians Fighting With Age Girl Is a Scientific Curiosity

YOUTH

IMPRISONED, SHE BE-COMES AN OLD WOMAN

ST. MICHAEL'S, Md., Nov. 29.—A woman who, through starvation and suffering, looked for years in a dark room, presents at the age of 23 the appearance and physical characteristics of a woman of almost 60, is the striking puzzle scientists are investigating here in Grace Marshall, to whom physicians are trying, by proper feeding and treatment, to bring back youth.

Miss Marshall's plight was discovered by the authorities a few days ago, when it was found that her father, objecting to her living in a dark room, had kept her in a close room, 3x10 feet, ever since. The girl once tried to jump from a window. A broken leg was the result, and her father and stepmother, fearing to call in a physician, set it themselves. The work was defective, and the girl suffered for years and is deformed as a result. In appearance the girl resembles a woman of 60, and when released she was hardly able to speak. Physicians state that with proper care they may be able to give her back a part of her youth. She is in the care of the Children's Aid Society of this city, and several prominent physicians of other states have come here to look into her case.

ATTO VICTIM DIES.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Miss Kate Dillon, who was run down in Burlingame Friday night by an automobile driven by Professor A. B. EXHAUSTION OF GERMAN FORCES, AIM

Gallieni So Defines Allies' Operations in War

Holding Teuton Offensive Gives Time to Organize

PARIS, Nov. 29.—General Joseph Gallieni had been at his desk in the ministry of war since 5 o'clock in the morning when he received the Associated Press correspondent four hours later, yesterday.

"What are the reasons for my unshakable confidence in victory?" repeated the minister of war. "They are those of every Frenchman. Our enemies have been powerless to attain the essential object of every war—the destruction of the adversary's forces. In September, 1914, when we arrested and repulsed the German offensive, the game was lost by the enemy."

"How do you deduce that the Teutonic empire failed from that moment?" asked the correspondent.

"Because that victory gave the allies the essential factor of time," replied General Gallieni. "That has enabled us to organize the effective operations of our resources—resources that are very superior in men and which have been of inestimable and nearly unlimited material, thanks to our mastery of the seas."

General Gallieni then outlined the positions of the Teutonic armies as he views it.

CAUGHT IN VISE.
"Caught in a vise," he said, "the Central powers are struggling desperately to free themselves from its grip. The attack upon our front along the Yser, the offensive against the Russians and the campaign in the Balkans have been the convulsions of a beast at bay."

Alluding to the character of the German efforts in these campaigns, General Gallieni said:

"I realize all their energy and vigor, but their importance is secondary. Even their recent successes, made possible by the treason of Bulgaria, cannot modify the strategic situation which has been established for many months. The French, British, Russians and Italian armies are intact. They are growing stronger each day and better armed to vanquish."

Referring to the effect upon the German armies of the frequent transfer of troops from one front to another, the war minister declared:

EXHAUSTION FACTOR.
"Transported to the west, retransported to the east and then to the south, the enemies' armies are exhausting themselves and the quality of the German soldier is rapidly deteriorating. The opinions of all those who saw the prisoners taken during the battle of Champagne in September are well fixed upon that point. 'The issue is fatal for the Central empires. Nothing but lack of tenacity on our part could save them. Shall we have the necessary energy to go on to the end? If you wish to fix your opinion as to that eventual issue, travel about France everywhere. At the front, as in Paris, in the towns as in the country, you will see in the eyes of everyone the unchangeable will to persevere to the very end, and to a complete victory.'"

Launch Reaches Safe Harbor Through Ice

SEWARD (Alaska), Nov. 29.—Six men who attempted to reach Anchorage through the Cook inlet ice fields in the launch Onward and for whose safety grave fears were felt, reached here yesterday. They were picked up at Seldovia by the steamship Alameda.

The men aboard the Onward turned back from the steamship Admiral Farragut Tuesday, after they had been driven thirty miles down Cook inlet by the ice foes. For twenty-four hours the little launch bucked the ice, but was unable to make any progress. Fred Tracer, agent of the Alaska Steamship Company at Anchorage, who was the leader of the party aboard the Onward, then decided to give up the attempt and went to Seldovia.

Japanese Navy to Receive Less Money

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—The Japanese naval estimates for 1916 total about 100,000,000 yen ($50,000,000), a decrease of 6,000,000 yen from the 1915 budget. Supplementary expenditure of 45,000,000 yen for the construction of new warships will be spread over a period of four years. The allotment for 1915 is 6,000,000 yen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Two regiments of Mexican infantry are being hurried from the La Mocho district to Topolobampo, where Americans have been reported threatened, and are expected to control the situation. Rear Admiral Winslow, on his flagship San Diego, is on his way there with marines.

PROTECTORS ARE LOOTERS.
LOS MOCHIS, Mexico, Nov. 29.—General Sepulveda, commanding the Carranza garrison here, stated that it was his intention to maintain the present garrisons at Los Mochis and Aguilera until the Indian troubles had been settled.

A party of Americans who took refuge on the United States gunboat Annapolis at the time of the Indian raids visited Los Mochis yesterday and found, they declared, that the Carranza troops sent here to protect and garrison the place had looted their homes and committed many acts of vandalism.

Advice received from Guaymas, where the United States cruisers Raleigh and New Orleans are stationed, stated that Villa forces have been driven from Torres, a town on the Southern Pacific railroad, about sixty miles north of Guaymas, and that communication has been re-established between Guaymas and Torres.

The flagship San Diego, now headed for this troubled district, was reported off San Bartolome bay, Lower California.

SAN DIEGO SIGHTED.
Colonel Joseph H. Pendleton, commanding the Fourth Regiment of United States marines with his entire staff and most of the Fourth Regiment, are reported aboard the San Diego. The entire force on the flagship numbers approximately 1500 men.

The expeditionary force on the San Diego was reported to be equipped with a battery of field guns similar to the famous French 75s, with army motor trucks for rapid transportation and a machine gun battery equipped for immediate use. The force at Admiral Winslow's disposal it was pointed out, would be able, if necessary, to operate many miles inland and by means of the several field radio sets with which it was equipped, keep in constant communication with the ship.

THROUGH GREENS CARRANZA.
MATAMOROS, Mexico, Nov. 29.—General Venustiano Carranza, head of the Mexican de facto government, arrived here yesterday and was greeted by a large throng. The first chief and his party will remain in Matamoros until the arrival of Luis Cabrera, one of his advisers, who is en route from Europe. Cabrera was expected to reach here by Tuesday.

Marsh Yields Up Secret of Death Message Floats Ashore With Her Name

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 29.—By means of a note found floating in a nearby marsh, officers today were able to identify as that of Core Stanton of El Paso the body of the young woman found in Urbits lake ten days ago.

Previously the body had been identified as that of about ten different women, including Miss Rena Fuller. Miss Fuller appeared, however, to deny it. It was also believed the woman had been murdered, but the note likewise dispelled that theory. It read:

"My name is Core Stanton; I came from El Paso, Texas. I have neither kith nor kin, and I am sick and unable to find work. So unto the hand of God I give my soul."

With the note was found the woman's hat and purse, containing the sum of her wealth—$2.91.

Jose J. Obregon, brother of General Carranza's famous fighting general, arrived in San Francisco yesterday. He is at the Marx Hotel.

General Obregon has been appointed military commander of Mazatlan and of the State of Sinaloa. He is to sail for Mazatlan on the steamship Pennsylvania. He states that in the part of Mexico under his control order has been established.

"One great canon" is the way in which General Obregon characterizes the statement that differences have arisen between his brother and Carranza. He added:

"I bade my brother farewell but two weeks ago. He is full of loyalty to General Carranza and is confident of Villa's swift and final downfall."

General Obregon says his brother's armies are well supplied. Shiploads of ammunition have been sent from San Francisco and Los Angeles to Mazatlan and Guaymas.

The following members of his staff are here with General Obregon: J. A. Velderrain, Alonzo Velderrain and M. Terminel.

DENIES NUN OUTRAGES.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The administration's reply to those who criticize the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico because of charges of outrages upon priests and nuns of the Catholic church, was made public here today in a letter to Secretary Tumulty by Dr. James J. McGuire of Trenton, N. J., who recently wrote to the White House, asking an explanation of what he characterized as "widespread criticism."

Secretary Tumulty advised Dr. McGuire that the files of the State Department failed to disclose an official record of a single proven case of outrage upon the nuns, and he included in his letter a statement by the Catholic Vicar-General at Mexico City, which, while disclosing the shooting of priests and the expulsion and imprisonment of others, declared that there had been no violation of nuns in that district.

"Counsel and sympathy are needful and would be meritorious now, because they would be of wonderful efficacy in uniting the people of Mexico in the work of reconstruction," wrote Tumulty. "Efforts to arouse rancorous feelings among them will have the effect of opening anew the wounds which should be healed and of creating an open sore to torture that poor people as long as their minds are kept inflamed against their brethren."

Emphasis was laid on the recognition of Carranza by the Latin-American countries which joined in the Pan-American peace conferences. All of these Latin-American countries, Tumulty pointed out, were Catholic nations.

TWO KILLED WHEN CAR HITS AUTO

Mother and Son Meet
Death in Avenue
Accident

Two Others Badly Hurt
Are Recovering in Hospital

Two persons are dead and two more are seriously injured in the Emergency hospital today as the result of a head-on collision last night between an automobile and a street car at East Fourteenth street and Fourteenth avenue.

THE DEAD.
MRS. ANNIE LARKIN, 67 years of age.
EDWARD STOVER, her son, 49 years of age.

THE INJURED.
MRS. JANE MACQUART, 43 years, niece of Mrs. Larkin; internal injuries, bruises and lacerations; condition serious.
BERNIE MACQUART, 9 years, granddaughter of Mrs. MacQuart; bruises and lacerations; will recover.

The victims of the accident all resided at Mount Eden, where Mrs. MacQuart's husband is in charge of the Hayward Water Company's pumping plant.

It was while the party, in a street automobile, were returning to Hayward from a visit to the Alameda sanitarium, where a son of Mrs. MacQuart is confined with a broken leg, that the collision occurred.

CAR HITS AUTO.
Stover was driving the car and was traveling eastward on East Fourteenth street when he attempted to turn north into Fourteenth avenue to strike Bay boulevard. The street car, west bound and in charge of Motorman A. H. Marklund, was going rapidly down the hill toward Fourteenth avenue and struck the auto, hurling the occupants many feet on each side of the tracks.

Mrs. Larkin and her son died shortly after arrival at the Emergency hospital, where they were taken by persons in passing autos. According to Motorman Marklund he did not see the automobile as it approached from behind another street car eastbound. Although he applied the emergency brakes the distance was too short to make them effective. The crash was heard for many blocks as the auto was hurled thirty feet from where it was struck. Mrs. MacQuart was caught beneath the tonneau. Her son received a fractured skull, as did Stover.

MRS. MACQUART TALKS.
Dr. W. H. Irwin, Dr. H. D. Bell and Dr. Corle attended the patients. While in a serious condition Mrs. MacQuart was able to talk this morning. "It all happened so suddenly that I do not know just what occurred. I saw the street car when it was right upon us and then the crash came. That's the last I remember."

Mrs. MacQuart and her granddaughter were removed to a private hospital today. The remains of Mrs. Larkin and her son were taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

GREAT OLD REMEDY FOR SKIN DISEASES

S. S. S. Clears Skin of Eruptions; Drives Poison From the System. Get it fixed in your mind that skin eruptions, scrofula, eczema, burning, itching skin, and all skin diseases are due entirely to impure and infected blood. If the trouble was on the outside of the skin, by simply washing and keeping it clean you could obtain relief—not even ointments, lotions, and salves, would be necessary. Agree with us in this belief, and your trouble can be relieved—you can be entirely restored to health. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable treatment that you can secure from your own druggist. It is a blood tonic that will purify your blood and cause a most decided abatement of your trouble, and finally make you entirely well. Fifty years ago S. S. S. was discovered and given to suffering mankind. During this period it has proven its remarkable curative properties as a blood purifier and tonic, and has relieved thousands of cases of disease caused by poor or impure blood and chronic or inherited blood diseases. You can be relieved, but you must take S. S. S. Take it if only pinpoints appear, for they denote bad blood, and most likely followed by the suffering from torturing skin eruptions. Therefore be sure. Don't take chances. Don't use lotions. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. If you are a special case, write for expert medical advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

C. for many years, has been a member of the U. S. C. for many years, and has been a member of the U. S. C. for many years.

Oil Men Pray To Hold Lands

Special Church Services Held at Taft

TAFT, Nov. 28.—The oil men here have taken refuge in prayer and practically everybody connected with the oil industry in this vicinity went to church yesterday to hear a special sermon preached by the Rev. Luther A. Rice on the subject of "Faith's Conservation."

The sermon dealt with the order of former President Taft withdrawing certain oil lands and the effect of the withdrawal on the California oil industry generally and this district, where the withdrawn lands are located, in particular. The withdrawal order, said the preacher, had worked previous hardship to oil operators large and small.

After the sermon the congregation was asked to engage in silent prayer asking that Congress be induced to pass remedial legislation for the protection of California's oil industry.

ROADHOUSE BANDITS MAY BE IN PRISON

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Following the receipt of secret information which led to surrounding a house at 722 McAllister street, and an all night watch by the police, a raid was made shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, resulting in the arrest of three ex-convicts believed to have been implicated in the holding up of the Claremont on Wednesday morning and the killing of Police Corporal Frederick Cook.

One of the robbers, Harry Wilson, formerly of Oakland, was killed escaping.

A secret trap door arranged for a quick getaway, a quantity of drugs, several suitcases worth of loot valued at about $1000, pass keys, burglar tools and ammunition were discovered by the detectives when they broke into the place. The men under arrest are Ray Pullman, Walter Raymond and Harry Dean, all of whom are held in detention.

In the possession of Dean the police found more than $600 worth of drugs. It was learned that seven men had been living at the McAllister-street house, and Wilson, the bandit who killed Cook and was himself slain by Lieutenant Daniel Silver, was identified at the morgue as one of them. The police say that they have another still under surveillance, leaving two to be accounted for.

Although they are not ready to accuse the three men in custody of the holding up of the Claremont and complicity, therefore, in the murder of Cook, they assert that it is their belief that members of the gang took part in the crime.

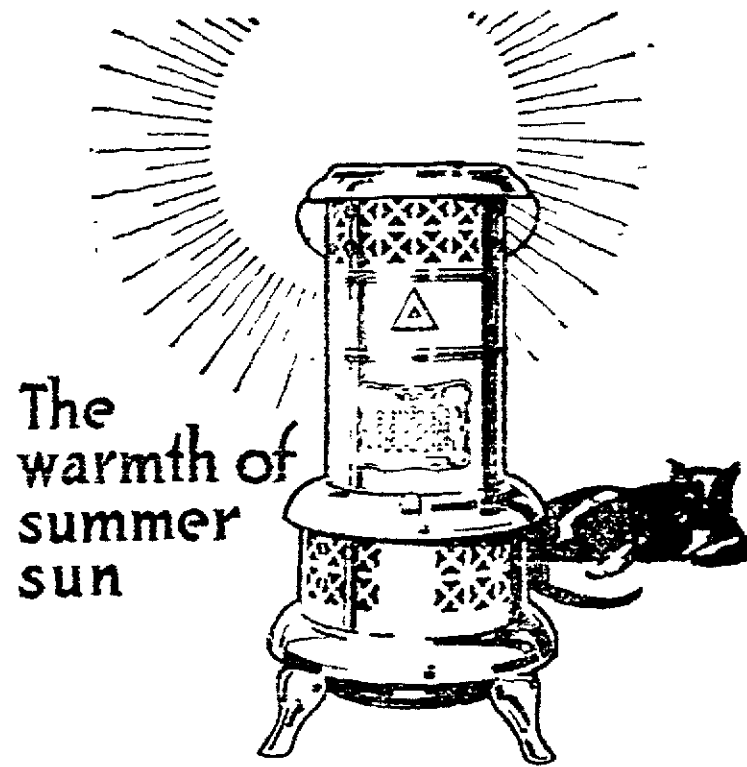

According to the detectives, they have the witness who heard the men discussing the holdup both before and after its perpetration. This man will testify that he overheard one man say to another, "Look out for Mike Burke." Burke was detailed to run down the bandits.

The latter, most of whom belong to the Women's Club, have been unable to remedy the situation and have placed the blame on the West Coast Gas Company, which they claim has not supplied the necessary fuel for their fires.

Police to Correct Alleged Taxi Abuse

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Independent taxicab drivers at the city building will be under police supervision as the result of a detail made this morning by Acting Captain Duncan Mathewson of the Harbor district. An officer will take the names and destinations of persons hiring machines from the independent cabs, thus being done to prevent overcharging and the payment of rebates and bonuses by hotels to the taxi men who bring guests. Frequent complaints have been made to the chief of police that people intending to go to one hotel have been steered to another and overcharged through the complicity of the taxi men who, if given a chance, will charge a double fare. Corporal George Groat and Patrolman Peter Murphy, who have been given this detail will see that the fare is arranged before the taxi leaves the ferry and in the event of any suspicion will call up the hotel destination to see if the passenger was really taken there.

Azevedo Gets Life Term for Murder

Antonio Azevedo was sentenced to life in San Quentin by Superior Judge Ogden this morning for the murder of his wife Mary, last July in San Leandro. Azevedo, a native of Brazil, was charged with the murder of his wife while she was staying after having separated from him. He attempted to effect a reconciliation and when she refused to return to him, drew a revolver that he had bought several days before in Oakland and shot her. A verdict of second degree murder was returned last week by a jury in Judge Ogden's court.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

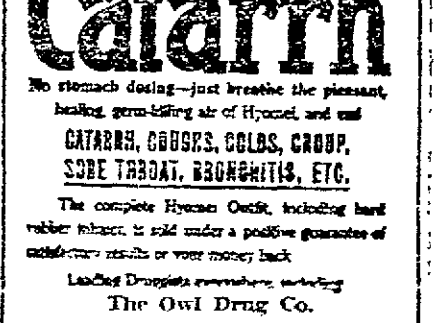

Remarkable Statement of a Woman Who Was Nothing But Skin and Bones.

Laugh and grow fat is a homely saying, but Mrs. Elizabeth L. Morris of Hammond, La., tells of a more reliable method. She says:

"I cannot say enough in praise of Vinol, for it saved my life. I was weak, nervous, run-down, could not sleep, was unfit for work and was nothing but skin and bones. Three doctors had all failed to help me. One day I saw Vinol advertised, took course and bought a bottle, and it soon made me feel better. I continued its use and such a change! I have regained my strength, flesh and health, am perfectly well, and the doctor was surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time." Elizabeth Morris, Hammond, La.

The reason Vinol proved such a wonderful strength creator in Mrs. Morris' case was because of the potentiate of iron, beef peptone and the extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined in a pure native tonic wine, which makes Vinol a most wonderful tonic. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

P. S. In your own town wherever you live, there is a Vinol drug store. Look for the sign—Advertisement.
